PREMIER ASKS FOR MANDATE

Whether to Continue Negotiations With the Sinn Fein

SERIOUS AFFAIR COMES TO HEAD

Lloyd George Will Probably Get Vote of Support

London, Oct. 28.—Prime Minister Lloyd George will confront the House of Commons next Monday and ask for a mandate relative to the continuance of the negotiation between the delegates of the government and the Sinn Fein. The announcement to this effect yesterday by the prime minister brought to a head the seemingly serious situation which has developed during the past fortnight by the alleged defection of Unionist leaders and constituencies from support of the coalition government.

Belief was expressed by newspapers here to-day that the government would receive a big majority in support of the policies it has followed relative to Ireland, and that the ministry's hands would be strengthened in dealing with the Sinn Fein representatives. Mr. Lloyd George received congratulations from the Liberal press for "grasping the nettle of the hard shell Unionist opposition." It was said the prime minister had "by calling their bluff, knocked the wind out of the Unionists who were sponsors of the vote of censure to the government," which was read in the House on Wednesday.

It was not expected that the vote adverse to the government would total more than fifty, and that all the coalition liberals and laborites certainly would rally to the support of the cabinet.

Political correspondents generally predict important developments at the annual conference of the unionist party to be held in Liverpool next week. They assert the party may split, and that there may be formed an independent conservative party.

The passage of another day without further advance toward an Irish settlement seemed to have deepened the pessimistic views held by many political writers.

STOWE

E. M. Houston, F. J. Holden, Albert Raymond, Neil Ellsworth and Misses Florence Canning and Beatrice Gale of the Mount Mansfield creamery attended the butter scoring contest at Milton Thursday.

Several officers and members of the H. H. Smith Woman's Relief corps, including the president, Mrs. Minnie Tinkham, Mrs. J. M. Rutter, Mrs. A. R. Straw, Mrs. F. S. Boardman, Mrs. S. E. Dewey, Mrs. James Foster, Miss Sadie Harlow, Mrs. Edwina Harris, Mrs. L. S. Peterson, Mrs. E. G. Stafford, Mrs. S. A. Stebbins, Mrs. G. M. Barnes and Mrs. H. G. Smith attended the district meeting held with the Waterbury Center corps Thursday.

M. C. Lovejoy and L. L. Harris represented the Stowe branch of the Red Cross at the meeting of the county chapter held at Johnson Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Hayward, who motored to Burlington Thursday, were accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Straw, who visited her brother, Arthur P. Bigelow, at the Mary Fletcher hospital.

The Nellie Gill players gave their farewell play for the season Wednesday evening for the benefit of the Donald McMahon post, American Legion. The Legion realized about $25 and are grateful to the players and townspeople for their loyalty.

Donald Harris, while at work for the Stowe Butter Package Co. Thursday morning, severely cut the cords on the right hand below the knuckles so he went to the hospital to have it cared for.

Miss Ruth McMahon is spending a week with friends in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Farrar of Hardwick have been in Stowe a few days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Riley were visitors in Burlington Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Latuch and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raymo and Mrs. W. H. Warren attended the funeral of Georgia Hart, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hart, at the home of the child's grandfather, P. A. Shonio, in Elmore Wednesday. The child was three years of age and died at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Ravlin, in Plainfield. The burial was made in the River Bank cemetery at Stowe. Mrs. Hart is making her home with her father, Mr. Shonio. There are two sons in her family older than the little girl.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ravlin are moving from George A. Clement's farm at Moss Glen to F. E. Bailey's house at the lower village.

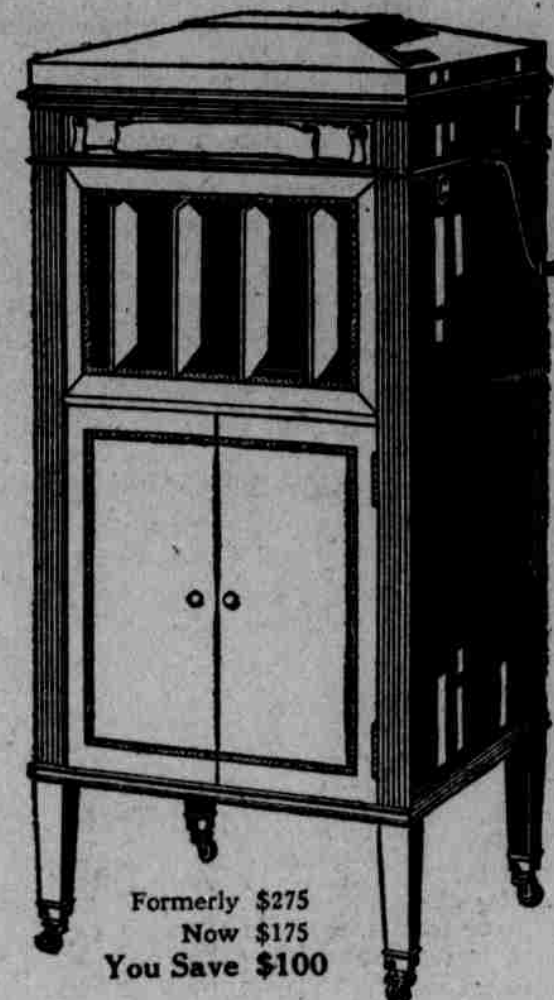

H. C. McMahon is attending the Greater Vermont association at Rutland as a delegate from the Stowe Civic club.

Don't lose sleep because of an itching skin
Resinol
will make it well

How can you expect to sleep tonight unless you do something to relieve the trouble? Eczema and other itching skin troubles don't often heal themselves. But it is surprising how quickly Resinol does heal them.

Almost daily we hear from a skin-sufferer who says, "Resinol cured my itching at once and I got the best good night's sleep I had had in weeks. Now my skin is well." At all druggists.
